PREFACE

The Senior Class of 1951 have strived to put forth an annual which will prove itself interesting to the people of our home town as well as students. In doing so, we have tried to develop the theme, "Our Home Town," throughout the annual.

DEDICATION

To Mr. Stangle, our principal, we the graduating class of 1951 would like to dedicate this annual, in appreciation for his eight years of teaching in our school. He has influenced many of the students by his dependable teaching and has faithfully guided the policies of our school, enabling us seniors to accomplish our goal.

We especially thank Mr. Stangle for his friendly and helpful advice to us, this year's graduating class.

Class Poem

*If you'll come along and go with me,
You'll learn of the hopes and ambitions to be
Of each and every lad and lass,
Of this year's graduating class.*

*Miss Kolling, our sponsor, for the first three years
Has shared with us our joys and tears;
She's full of fun, and we think it's right;
As we bid her adieu, we wish her well.*

*To be a nurse is Beth Ann's dream;
On the ladder of success she'll reach the top and be free.
Her hair is curly and her eyes are brown;
You'll always see a smile and receive a friend.*

*Now there's Bob Cotter, a chubby lad;
Who's liked by everyone and never odd.
He's a pretty good sport altho he's shy;
You'll have to admit, he's a "friendly guy."*

*He's had many cars and driven many miles;
We know at the girls he whistles and smiles.
We know him as Roland, but he prefers "Booey";
If there's something to be done he's right on the job.*

*Next on our list is Ralph De Keel;
He's bound to do good with a business deal.
He makes a hit with his new Ford,
And with the girls he's highly scored.*

*Lucille Evers, the best Editor there is,
In shorthand and typing she's really a "Whiz."
To shrink 6 inches is her greatest ambition
Tho I doubt if she'll ever accomplish her mission.*

*John Faxe deserves his title as "Star";
His basketball skill is always up to par.
He's tall and good looking, with brown curly hair;
As far as his neatness, none can compare.*

*He's a well dressed guy, as you can see;
You'll know him as Jack, "The Jitterbug Bee."
Tho his being short is no handicap,
You'll find all in all he's a pretty good chap.*

*Dorothy Hunter is our red headed lass;
To be sure she'll always argue in class.
She's really petite, and we think she's sweet;
As a stewardess she'll fit in very well.*

*His eyelashes are curly, his smile is sincere;
With his masculine looks he'll draw the girls near.
Of course, as you've guessed, John Klip is his name;
Someday his farming will bring him fame.*

*August Krueck, our intellectual boy,
Being able to talk seems to bring him joy.
A future in Oratory will fit him well,
He'll always have some facts to tell.*

*The work of a poet was assigned to me;
No other job could tougher be.
But I've found some others who rendered their aid,
And, if I'm real lucky, a poem may be made.*

*Evelyn Sigler, better known as "Sig,"
Is our class secretary—her job is big.
She is quite short and so very fair
With pretty brown eyes and dark curly hair*

*Here's a boy with a humorous grin
Teasing the girls to him is no sin.
As our class president he's really "All Right";
John Sumara just can't be beat.*

*Next comes Carol, our little lass
Who loves to giggle and talk in class.
She's a friend and a leader wherever she goes,
And you can be sure she's got many beaux.*

*She's full of fun I'm sure you'll agree
As the "Life of the Party" she'll always be.
She's active in sports and in class work too,
We'll be sorry to bid our friend Betty adieu.*

*Mathematics and Evelyn seem to agree
For she likes algebra and geometry,
In personality she's rated very high;
She's bound to be a success in life by and by.*

*Now you've learned the hopes and ambitions to be
Of every graduating he and she.
As we look back on good old DeMotte High,
We can only utter a tearful goodbye.*

Class Prophecy

Graduation day 1961, ten years after the class of "51" ended their good time and hard studying in good old DeMotte High School. To think that my Senior Class would ever be what they are today. The class of "51" has made a thriving city out of the small town that DeMotte was in 1951.

Only last week I met Mayor August Krucek on the street. He told me he had just come from the city hospital where Evelyn Zylstra is head nurse. He had gone to see Sharon Magers who was in the hospital suffering from a broken toe she received when she fell during her Ballet Dance at the Fritts Opera House.

To think that I was nearly arrested by one of my own students. The other day I was driving home in my new car which I had just purchased from the Curtiss Auto Sales & Service when Police Chief John Sumara and Patrolman Robert Coffey stopped me for not having a license on my car. When I explained to them, they let me go. John asked me to come over some time and see his wife, the former Lucille Evers, and their new twins.

When I got to the hotel I called the florist, who was none other than John Fase. to have flowers sent to Dorothy Hunter, who was just returning from her voyage into England where she has been a stewardess on an ocean liner.

I noticed in the morning paper that "Klip's 5th Avenue" is having a sale on dresses designed by the great designer, Evelyn Sigler.

I saw Ruth and Ralph this morning with their seven boys. They were just coming home from their new implement store "The Stub."

I saw Carol and Betty today at the Board of Trade building here in town. Carol was getting prices on stocks for the United Air Lines where she is a stewardess. Betty left her job as personal secretary to come over to chat a little while with me.

Well, this has been a very pleasant vacation for me, spending it in DeMotte. My husband and I enjoyed it. I am proud to say I was the sponsor of that class of "51" who have made their town the thriving city it is today.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1951, being in a jolly and carefree state of mind, do hereby revoke any and all former wills, ills, and pills and declare this our last will and testament.

Ruth Cheever, in a helpful state of mind, wills her pretty brown eyes and quiet ways to Anna Mae Belstra and Janet Hammetton.

Robert Coffey, in a wakeful state of mind, wills his ability to sleep and get studies in on time, to Ernest Swart and Edward White. We hope you get by with it, boys.

Roland Curtiss, in an affectionate state of mind, wills to Paul Kaluf the technique of dating girls.

Ralph De Kock, in a reckless state of mind, wills his ability to drive a car to Estill Duggins and Mary Ann Holz.

Lucille Evers, in a quiet state of mind, wills her librarian job to Edwin Totten, so he can be nearer to the books.

John Fase, in a determined state of mind, wills his curly hair to Harold Kingma and Joyce Hamstra—to Harold so he won't have to buy any more combs and to Joyce so she won't have to set her hair anymore.

Jack Fritts, in a pensive state of mind, wills his cornet to Robert Hunter and to Harold Jabaay. Blow hard, boys.

Dorothy Hunter, in an alert state of mind, wills her height to Joann Kaper. That should even things up.

John Klip, in a playful state of mind, wills his car to Fred Boissy.

August Krucek, in a thoughtful state of mind, wills to Mahlon Grevenstuk and Joyce Jabaay his physics book. Don't fight over it.

Sharon Magers, in a normal state of mind, wills her dramatic readings to Judith Kingma and "going steady" ability to Kay Woudema. Hope you do as well as she did, Kay.

Evelyn Sigler, in a sentimental state of mind, wills her ability to get a man and keep him to Doris Knight and Doris Coberly. Look hard, grab, and hold on, girls.

John Sumara, in a corny state of mind, wills to Marvin Terpstra and Norman Wright his whistling, singing, and joke books. Hope you have as much fun as he had.

Carol Unzicker, in a sympathetic state of mind, wills her position as Student Council president and her negro play part to Carol Hart and Joan Scott, respectively. Good luck, girls.

Betty Van Keppel, in a sleepy state of mind, wills her ability to come to school after a late date to Carol Thornton and Roger DeYoung.

Evelyn Zylstra, in a scholastic state of mind, wills her report card to Barbara Bennema and Ruth Terborg. The grades will come easy.

To the rightful heirs of all our masterful possessions, the Junior Class, we will our happy dispositions, attitude, and good grades.

To the Sophomore Class we will our old books, desks, and any old gum found under the desks.

To the Freshmen Class, who looked up to us as big brothers and sisters, we will the ability to beat up the class of '58!"

To the Janitors we will the oncoming students. Let's hope they know where the wastepaper baskets are.

To the teachers we happily will the following:

Miss Beanblossom—A home ec. class that will work and not gossip.

Miss Griffith—A bookkeeping class that starts to study as soon as the bell rings instead of talking until told to study. We hope they will be able to add.

Miss Kolling—An art class that will bring their own pencils to class.

Mr. Stangle—A government class that will study for a test and not race to get back seats in class.

Mr. Hission—A physics class that will get above average marks on a test.

Mr. Leffler—All the bits of wood laying around in the shop room.

Mr. Jones—A basketball team that will obey training rules.

Mr. Moolenaar—An alto section that will sing and not talk. We also will all the school music found at our homes to you.

Class History

In the fall of 1948 we started our journey, step by step, until now in '51 we are almost to the end. Our journey was loaded with adventures and fun; but, we'll have to admit, it was rugged at times.

We started our journey with 21 travelers; but as I said before, the way was sometimes rugged and as a result there are only 16 survivors.

We chose in our first lap of travel, Mrs. Moody as guide. Our leaders were Evelyn Zylstra, Kenny Hoffman, Evelyn Sigler, and Ralph DeKock. We named green and white our identification colors and a white carnation as our party's flower. In the early part of our travels, the older and more experienced travelers initiated us into their way of life. It was then that we really saw how cruel the expedition would be. It wasn't all hardships though; for soon after our cruel mistreatment, we stopped along the road and had a feast of roasted weiners. During our first lap we also stopped our climb for another night of festivities. This time it was called a carnival. We entered Ralph DeKock and Evelyn Sigler as representatives for a contest for King and Queen.

The second lap of our journey began in the fall of '49. This time we chose Miss Kolling for our guide, and have found her to know the trail so well that we have seen fit to keep her until our journey is completed. We chose Ruth Cheever, John Klip, John Fase, and Carol Unzicker for our leaders. Those traveling in other groups decided a council was necessary, so we submitted Bob Coffey and Evelyn Zylstra as delegates. We found this lap of the expedition to be so steep and mountainous that it was necessary to have more festivities than the usual to keep up the morale of the party.

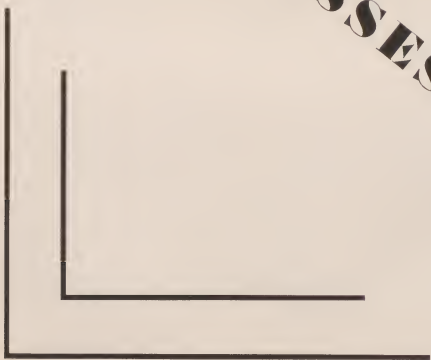

We had only 17 journeymen when we started on our third lap of this adventure.

With Miss Kolling as our guide and Evelyn Zylstra, Lucille Evers, Evelyn Sigler, and Dorothy Hunter as sub-guides we were eager to continue on. We chose as our motto "Onward and Upward." That year our delegates to the council were Ruth Cheever and John Fase. We stopped again for a carnival. This time one of our candidates, Ruth Cheever, became Queen. Soon we received our class rings and sweaters. Other festivities were a skating party and a weiner roast at the game preserve (quite a distance from our main course). One of the great obstacles we overcame was the putting on of our Junior Play, "Don't Keep Him Waiting." It was a huge success. At the end of the third part of our journey we gave a banquet for the oldest and most experienced travelers.

In the fall of '50 we began the fourth and final part of our journey. The time passed swiftly for we were eager to reach the end. Our main leader was John Sumara, with Ruth Cheever, Evelyn Sigler, and Evelyn Zylstra as his aids. Our faithful guide, Miss Kolling, remained loyal to the last. We stopped again for the festivities of a carnival. This time our candidates for King and Queen were Carol Unzicker and John Fase. John became King and we made a substantial profit besides to tide us over to the end as our supplies were running low. Carol Unzicker and Ralph DeKock were our delegates to the council. We soon came to our last big obstacle, "Amazing Gracie." We made a success of it in spite of all the hindrances thrown in the way. We published a yearbook telling about all our adventures in this journey along with the adventures of the other groups who were traveling at the same time as we were. At the close of the trip we were honored at a banquet. So now, after four short years, we have reached our goal. We have completed our first journey.

ACTIVITIES

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's health and social care. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; older people should be able to access the services they need; and older people should be able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's health and social care. These include: to improve the quality of life of older people; to reduce the inequalities in health and social care; to ensure that older people are able to access the services they need; and to ensure that older people are able to participate in the decisions that affect their lives.

Although the DeMotte Indians lost most of their former first team players, they came through the basketball season with an outstanding record. They managed to win thirteen games and lose only eight. The team for next year looks as if it has very great possibilities, since it is losing only a few of its members.

B. Team

This year's B team played some very good basketball, having won all games out of 16. The team, consisting mostly of freshmen, shows promises of being a championship team in a year or two. The team fought some very tough battles this year and managed to come out on top many times.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a vision for the future of health care for older people, and the Department of Health (2001) has published a strategy for the future of health care for older people. The strategy sets out a vision for the future of health care for older people, and a number of key principles that will guide the development of health care for older people. The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives that will guide the development of health care for older people.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Act 1983, 1990). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in the UK, and this has led to a corresponding increase in the number of people with mental health problems who are in contact with the criminal justice system.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of people in the criminal justice system. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the establishment of the Mental Health Act 1983, the Mental Health Act 1990, and the Mental Health Act 2003. These initiatives have led to a number of changes in the way that mental health problems are managed in the criminal justice system, including the introduction of mental health reviews, the establishment of mental health tribunals, and the introduction of mental health care orders.

One of the key challenges in managing mental health problems in the criminal justice system is the need to balance the need to protect the public with the need to provide appropriate care and support for people with mental health problems.
